

Solis Capital Partners is pleased to announce two fantastic additions to the Solis Team this year.

Earlier this year, Gabriel Segura joined Solis as a Principal and is responsible for identifying and executing investment opportunities and supporting portfolio company investments. Gabe brings a wealth of strategic, operational and finance experience that he has gained during his years of working for investment banks Houlihan Lokey, D.A. Davidson and Janes Capital Partners. For nearly a decade, Mr. Segura focused his efforts on sellside and buy-side M&A advisory, corporate divestitures, fairness opinions and capital and has advised on more than 20 transactions.

Gabe earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in history from the University of California, Los Angeles. He is a Southern California native and resides in Huntington Beach with his wife and their two daughters.

Jennifer Schulman joined Solis as the Operations Manager responsible for working with Solis investors and portfolio companies, along with overseeing Solis' internal operations and marketing. Jennifer brings more than 25 years of experience in the financial services industry, most recently with BNY Mellon Wealth Management where she spent over 12 years providing strategy and planning to high net worth families.

Jennifer earned her Bachelor of Arts degree in International Business from San Diego State University. She's a long-time resident of Newport Beach along with her husband and their two daughters.

"Gabe and Jennifer bring very important and complimentary skill sets that will enable Solis to continue its long track record of successfully investing in and supporting the growth of lower, middle market companies." Dan Lubeck, Founder & Managing Director of Solis Capital Partners.
